King Taxation Bill Passes Assembly by Narrow Vote

BIG DRIVE STARTS TOMORROW

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE BOOSTING CAMPAIGN

Secretary W. J. Wallace of the chamber of commerce returned here last night after having attended the meeting of chamber secretaries at Sacramento regarding a concerted plan for a publicity campaign to boost northern California.

"Everybody at the capital knows all about Richmond," Wallace said. "They boost for us better than we boost for ourselves here. A big number of Sacramento boosters are coming here to spend a day with me this coming week and will be here in time to participate in our big campaign which is to start on Monday. Among those coming is H. S. Maddocks.

"The preliminary work of our big drive is to commence Monday and the Sacramento visitors will assist in the launching.

"It is contemplated that we are going to put over the record campaign for any chamber of commerce in Northern California for Richmond. That is the opinion that prevails among the outside forces.

"We are going to encourage a publicity campaign which will cover a wide field throughout the whole of the United States. You can take it from me that I heard good reports of Richmond from all those who attended the meeting at Sacramento. The picture films recently taken here have helped considerably and many of the secretaries at the convention told me they had seen the pictures. Most of them seemed to know more about this city than a good many of the people living here. And they are all boosters for us."

Masquerade Party to Harry Wernse Delightful Affair

A very delightful masquerade surprise party was given by about forty friends in honor of Mr. Harry Wernse at his home 209 Washoe street last night. Some very beautiful costumes were worn and a jolly crowd made merry until late.

Dancing, cards, games, recitations and singing were enjoyed by all present.

Prizes for the grand march, which was led by Miss Violet Hall and Miss Eleanor Jacquelin, were won by "best gent" Pearl Powell and the best lady prize by Emily Axell. The second gent prize went to Ben Norman, the second ladies prize to Annie Rose. Third prizes were won by Dr. C. R. Blake and Mary Black, or gent and lady respectively. The consolation prize went to Ann's one.

An egg race was won by a team headed by Mrs. Anna Coward. During the evening Mr. Wernse was presented with a handsome gift from the gathered friends by Mrs. Blake.

Mrs. Marie Ogden, councilwoman, had her nomination yesterday for next election.

KING BILL PASSES THE ASSEMBLY BY CLOSE CALL

SACRAMENTO, March 6.—After a most exciting session the King tax bill passed the assembly this afternoon with the margin of one vote necessary for the two-third majority, the roll call showing 51 for and 28 against. The bill was signed tonight by Governor Stephens.

Assemblymen Heck of Bakersfield and McPherson of Vallejo changed over explaining that while they did not favor the bill their constituents wanted it, while Assemblyman Mitchell of San Francisco also swung over. James N. Long, of Richmond, voted in favor.

The vote was taken amid great uproar from the gallery and one of the most exciting scenes that has taken place in the assembly.

Governor Stephens was visibly affected as he greeted the supporters of the bill and the leaders of the fight. Expressing himself, he said: "Thank God, the people of California have won. I hope the people will thank collectively and individually the twenty-seven members of the Senate and the fifty-four members of the Assembly who stood by the people and made possible this victory."

As soon as the bill passed it was returned to the Senate, where the formalities of accepting it, engrossment and conveyance to the Governor were rapidly completed.

In the presence of Senator Lyman King, Speaker Wright of Assembly and Clyde L. Seavey of the State Board of Control, who was foremost in its presentation before the Legislative committee, Governor Stephens signed the bill soon after its passage by the Assembly.

George Rush, now in the navy, after 28 months spent in Siberia with the American forces, is visiting his parents on Seventh street. He is now stationed at Mare Island.

Mutt and Jeff Dance at Park is Big Success

The Mutt and Jeff dance at East Shore park last night drew a great crowd and was an unqualified success in every respect. Nothing had been overlooked that would tend to the pleasure of the occasion. Another dance is planned for March 13th.

Miss Lorillie McKenzie of Martinez is spending the weekend with Jo Fuller, president of the Richmond Junior Club.

The Fraternal Brotherhood will hold their regular meeting tomorrow night when there will be balloting, initiation ceremonies and a banquet. A big attendance is anticipated.

TRAP GETS SYKES AFTER REFUSING SURRENDER

SAN FRANCISCO, March 5.—Shortly after Federal Judge M. T. Dooling had forfeited his $500 bonds for failure to surrender to begin a penitentiary term for obstruction of the selective draft, Joshua Sykes, founder of the Church of the Living God in Berkeley and more recently head of the Tabernacle of David in Denver, was taken into custody in Denver today after a sensational chase over roofs.

The arrest was made on order from the San Francisco authorities. At the same time it was reported that an attempt to rescue from a hospital Marie Frede, Sykes' "Queen of Heaven," and until yesterday the occupant of the apartment where Sykes was found hiding today, had been made during the night.

According to press advices the Denver police in order to arrest Sykes, had to climb from the roof of an adjoining house into an apartment where he had taken refuge. From behind locked doors "Jehovah," as he terms himself, had refused to answer repeated demands that the officers be permitted to enter.

When he was finally surrounded and confronted in his room Sykes said: "I was asleep; I didn't know you wanted me."

Marie Frede was taken to the insane ward of the county hospital in Denver for observation yesterday following a court order.

THE SEASON'S RAINFALL.—E. J. Crandall, the weather man, says Richmond may expect rain to day. The rainfall for Saturday up to 5 o'clock was .34 of an inch. The total precipitation for the season is 19.27.

George Rush, now in the navy, after 28 months spent in Siberia with the American forces, is visiting his parents on Seventh street. He is now stationed at Mare Island.

Select Dancing Club Fortnightly Dance Last Night

The Select Dancing Club had its fortnightly dance at the Woodmen hall last night owing to the Richmond hall being otherwise engaged. The dance proved a most enjoyable affair.

Extraordinary precautions had been taken by Police Chief Woods who was present with practically the whole of the local police officers. Plain clothes men reinforced those in uniform but there was not anything during the night to call for interference. In fact, the audience

Labor Nominees for City Council to be Discussed

The Contra Costa Union Labor Political Club is to have a special meeting this afternoon to consider endorsement of candidates for the city council election. A big attendance of members is anticipated.

Bos Smith, mechanic for the fire department, who recently fractured a vertebra in his neck while working under a motor, is recovering, according to a report yesterday from the Fabiola hospital, Oakland.

$1000 FINE FOR HORNING BOOTLEGGER IS IMPOSED

Federal Judge M. T. Dooling yesterday fined Charles Horning of San Pablo $1000 after defendant had pleaded guilty to violation of the dry law.

Horning owned five stills, two of which were in operation when prohibition agents raided his place. He also had seventy-five gallons of jack-o'-lantern.

The arrest of Horning meant the discovery of the principal source of most of the bootlegged booze that had been finding its way into Richmond and neighboring cities.

After his arrest Horning admitted to the prohibition officers that he had cleared $15,000 over all expenses in a couple of months.

Richmond Juniors Have Great Time First Annual Dance

The Richmond Junior Club had its first annual dance at the clubhouse last night and it was attended by about 75 couples who all enjoyed themselves to their hearts' content.

The committee in charge was comprised of Mrs. J. H. Smith, Mrs. J. O. Mixon and Mrs. Clara Wilson. The music was supplied by the Richmond Social Club orchestra.

PATRIOTIC LECTURE BY MISS MCCARTY

The patriotic lecture by Miss Burke McCarty, journalist and lecturer to Protestant people only, drew an immense crowd to the Bank hall last night but unlike the meeting of a couple of weeks ago at another hall which was only just saved from developing into a "free for all" by the timely arrival of the police, the meeting last night was free from any suspicion of disorder.

Extraordinary precautions had been taken by Police Chief Woods who was present with practically the whole of the local police officers. Plain clothes men reinforced those in uniform but there was not anything during the night to call for interference. In fact, the audience

Small groups also stood about on the street in the vicinity of the hall and discussed the meeting but the presence of uniformed police kept everything well in check outside the building as well as inside. Miss McCarty will lecture in this city again the first part of April.

Two Men Arrested Disturbing Peace While "Liquored"

B. Pain and T. A. Fitzgerald of 305 Macdonald avenue will be called upon at the police court tomorrow morning to answer a charge of disturbing the peace as a result of an altercation they had last night when both, according to the police, were under the influence of liquor.

The men were taken to the station by Otto Camp and Officer Charles Mahnte.

NO MERCY TO BE SHOWN PROHIBITION VIOLATORS

The county wide prohibition law will become effective next Thursday and County Attorney A. B. Tinning yesterday announced that plans are being laid for its vigorous enforcement. Forces are being marshalled and directions are being issued to county officers. Full and complete cooperation of every peace officer is to be demanded.

It has been intimated that already some evidence is in the hands of the authorities on existence of stills and "blind pigs" and that it will not be long after the law goes into effect that developments may be expected.

Federal officials will gladly receive the support of Contra Costa county authorities in enforcement of the Volstead Act, according to expressions made recently by internal revenue officers in San Francisco to District Attorney Tinning. With the new law relieving the federal government of prosecutions from Contra Costa county much of the clogged machinery of federal courts will be relieved.

In the court of Federal Judge M. T. Dooling alone there are near 4000 cases pending, the big majority representing alleged violations of the liquor law. It is understood that the federal authorities on word from local officers of their intention to rigidly enforce the liquor law have signified their intention of leaving enforcement of the Volstead Act entirely with county authorities.

Richmond Club Women to Elect Officers Tomorrow

The women of the Richmond Club will have an important meeting at the clubhouse tomorrow afternoon when the election of officers for the year will take place. An interesting program will also be presented and it is urged that every member should be in attendance.

LIGHTING CONTRACT UP MONDAY AT CITY COUNCIL

It is likely that Richmond's main business avenues, Macdonald avenue, Washington and Richmond will be brilliantly lighted within the next twelve months, under a new system of electrolights that has been under consideration by the council for some time.

The Western States Gas & Electric company had offered to install the new system of lighting under a ten year contract, which period the members of the council thought was too long.

Finally it was suggested to Mr. Rooker that he get in communication with the head officials of the company and ascertain if they would be willing to install electrolights, providing the city would enter into a contract for five years, the contract to run from the time that the work of putting in the new lights complex.

Mr. Rooker has now received the consent of the company, and the matter will be brought up at the meeting of the council tomorrow night, and it is very likely that a contract will be entered into.

The plan for the east side of the city provides for electrolights on Macdonald avenue from First street to Twenty-third street.

Sam Caldwell of the fire department who recently underwent an operation for appendicitis is reported to be making continued progress at his home.

A. J. Timmons, a former Richmond resident, but now head of the pipefitting and boilermaking department of the Ventura Oil company, is a visitor here.

Richmond Club Women to Elect Officers Tomorrow

The women of the Richmond Club will have an important meeting at the clubhouse tomorrow afternoon when the election of officers for the year will take place. An interesting program will also be presented and it is urged that every member should be in attendance.

CARTER IS SENTENCED STATUTORY OFFENCE

William E. Carter, 23 year old Richmond youth was yesterday taken to St. Quentin to serve an indeterminate sentence imposed by a San Jose judge for a statutory offense committed on a thirteen year old Richmond girl with whom he eloped at the beginning of last month. The sentence for the crime upon which Carter was convicted ranges from one to fifty years.

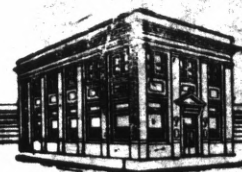

Carter had pleaded guilty to the charge at the hearing and on Monday last when he appeared for sentence application was made for probation. Parole, however, was denied and on Friday Carter again appeared in court.

In sentencing Carter to St. Quentin, the presiding judge said that while the offense carried with it a jail term of from one to fifty years, he did not feel disposed to recommend either the minimum or the maximum.

Carter and the girl were both arrested at San Jose the day after the elopement from here when they applied for a marriage license. The information regarding age and address of the applicant's aroused the suspicion of the clerk who notified the police.

The couple were brought back here and it was then that the girl made a statement to her father that Carter had attacked her in a park at San Jose and the statutory charge was laid against him and he was taken back to face the charge in the county in which the offense had been committed.

OFFICIAL PAPER CITY OF RICHMOND

THINKOGRAPHS by F. J. HULANISKI

SUNDAY MORNING CHATS

Many years ago I knew a newspaper man in Kansas. George Martin, editor of the Junction City Union; he was red-headed and impetuous but had a big heart in him. The local preacher at that town was slowly but surely starving to death trying to support a large family of children out of the $400 a year the church folks gave him. One day George called the dominie into the printing office and handing him a roll of bills amounting to $500, said: "Parson, you have a little farm out in the country, but you can't work it because your church work takes up all your time. You take this money, buy a team of horses and move out on your farm." "But, Mr. Martin," said the minister, "what about my flock?" At this Martin got as red in the face as he was of hair and replied: "You take this $500 and go out on the farm and support your family, and let your flock go to hell. What brings this story to mind was the fact that last night an uncle of mine died and left me a million dollars, and the first thing I did was to call in all the ministers in Richmond and give them a thousand dollars apiece; not that they are in any such fix as the Kansas preacher was, but just on general principles. Then I bought a tract of ground and built a fine large 'Community House' on it and presented it as a gift to the city. Mayor Jim Long, Judge Hall and others were at the gathering in the new hall and made speeches of acceptance. Then I got busy with a committee, planting out trees, shrubs, lawns and flowers, and just as we were all getting along fine with that work a freight train over on the S. P. tracks came along and blew a blast of whistles for five minutes, and woke me up. If that freight train had stayed away another fifteen minutes I would have had half of that million dollars spent, because among other things I was going to finish up the $7,000 Richmond quota for the European Child Feeding Fund. I wonder why people who have a million dollars, and some of 'em a hundred million, don't do more of such things? Seems like the fellows with the millions are all after more and much more than to grab a dollar than we who have little. Probably that is why they have the million and we have a dollar and a half.

And speaking of that child-feeding fund, do you know that we of Richmond are about two thousand dollars short of raising our quota, while hundreds of towns all over the United States raised two or three times the amount of their quotas? I tell you, friends, that makes me feel sick at heart and sort of blue and discouraged because it is the best cause we have been called upon to give to yet, and Richmond people went over the top on every other quota assigned to them—all but this. I cannot think that it is because they are unwilling to give, for they are generous and mighty good at heart, always. It must be that those who have had the drive in hand did not know how to get the results. It was not brought home to the people so they could see it, and as the starvation and suffering is thousands of miles away they cannot see it or realize its awfulness, or appreciate the real situation, as they would have done had it been made more clear to them. Movie pictures of the conditions, free of charge to all, would have shown the people the necessity of their helping, and it is not too late yet for a last strong effort. Let us all interest ourselves and see if we cannot raise that missing $2,000. That will only amount to ten cents for each man, woman and child in town. Say, folks, let's do it!

I get up early every morning to do battle with an army that is so stubborn it don't even know when it is licked, and therefore is never licked—the grass and weeds in the garden. The weeds are not so bad as the grass, for they can be killed off, but grass never gives up and after being dug up by the roots and then thrown away it is right back again, as tenacious as ever and waving in the breezes as green and blithely as though nothing had happened, smiling derisively at dull heads and tired backs. If it were not for grass, however, famine would depopulate the world and we would all go to pieces in a very few years. One of the finest pieces ever written by Senator John J. Ingalls is an article on "Blue Grass." If you ever run across his book, read it. Here is one paragraph of it:

"Grass is the forgiveness of Nature—her constant benediction. Fields trampled with battle, saturated with blood, torn with the ruts of cannon, grow green again with grass, and carnage is forgotten. Streets abandoned by traffic become grass-grown like rural lanes, and are obliterated. Forests decay, harvests perish, flowers vanish, but grass is immortal. Belegged by the sullen hosts of winter, it withdraws into the impregnable fortress of its subterranean vitality, and emerges upon the first solicitation of spring. Sown by the winds, by wandering birds, propagated by the subtle horticulture of the elements which are its ministers and servants, it softens the rude outline of the world. Its tenacious fibres hold the earth in its place and prevent its soluble components from washing into the wasting sea. It invades the solitudes of deserts, climbs the inaccessible slopes and forbidding pinnacles of mountains, modifies climates, and determines the history, character and destiny of nations. Unobtrusive and patient, it has immortal vigor and aggression. Banished from the thoroughfare and the field, it abides its time to return, and when vigilance is relaxed or the dynasty has perished, it silently resumes the throne from which it has been expelled, but which it never abandons. It bears no blazonry of bloom to charm the senses with fragrance or splendor, but its homely hue is more enchanting than the jilly or the rose. It yields no fruit in the earth or air, and yet should its harvest fail for a single year famine would depopulate the earth."

It will be a source of much satisfaction to we of Richmond, and to the residents of all San Francisco bay regions, that the election held across the bay a few days ago resulted in throwing out of office the two police judges, whose corrupt practices have enabled criminals to escape punishment and continue to ply their rascality, not only in San Francisco but all around the bay. Nearly 38,000 voted against their recall, showing that there are that many people in San Francisco who prefer crime to law and order. This is a bad showing and indicates that a thorough cleaning up over there is needed, as it is also needed in Oakland along the same lines. To be recalled from office on such damnable charges as these judges were is the most shameful disgrace one could well imagine, and the wonder is they do not leave the state and go to some foreign country where they can hide their heads from view. Such a punishment is something awful and any judge who gets recalled from the bench because of bribery and being in league with criminals ought rather be shot or hanged. These two men have been branded upon the forehead by the red-hot iron of public wrath and condemnation. Lord deliver us from any such a fate.

And now we have a new national administration, and should all cheer up and hope for the best. Things generally had got to such a pass that they could not well be any worse, so any change must be for the better. We do not look for any miracles to be performed by President Harding and his administration, but we do look for a safer and safer condition of general national affairs to be speedily brought about, and we also look for an immediate return of confidence on the part of the business interest of the country and the people in general, and that of itself means a whole lot. It means stabilization and better times.

Advertising and job printing is beginning to pick up at the newspaper offices, and there is not a better or surer barometer of trade and business than this. Whenever advertising and job printing begins to get brisk it is a sure sign that everybody else is going to have all kinds of good business to do, so no matter what your line is, get ready for the rush. This also will include employment for the workers. And all this being true, there is no reason why all of us should not go to church today and give thanks to the Lord, from whom all blessings flow.

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system. If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results. Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep them fit, fat and 30c.

These Charts Show Why Your Electric Light Bills Are Higher Now Than In Summer

Study the above charts. The one at the left shows the relative number of hours of daylight and darkness and the hours of use of Electric Light in each day during the Spring and Summer.

The chart at the right shows the same comparison between darkness, daylight and hours of use of Electric Light, but for the Fall and Winter months.

You will notice that there is two-thirds more darkness in each day during the Fall and Winter than in the Spring and Summer, and that on account of it, it is necessary to use your Electric Light nearly three times as much every twenty-four hours as in the Spring and Summer.

It is only natural, therefore, that with this increased consumption of Electricity for lighting, your Electric Light bills will be somewhat higher.

WHEN WOMAN HITS THE TRAIL IN THE CANADIAN ROCKIES

The outdoor girl—and her name is legion—knows almost as much about the trails, camps, mountains and fishing of the Canadian Pacific Rockies as mere man. Every summer Banff and Lake Louise are thronged with members of the fair sex who hit the trail to view the beauties of lakes and streams where the trout hide, climb mountains and camp for days near to nature's heart. Safeguarded by expert guides they learn to ford streams, fish and shoot, and there are real Swiss guides from the Alps overseas to show the way to the summits of majestic mountains. When they ride, climb and camp they wear the riding breeches of their soldier brothers, husbands or sweethearts and nobody thinks anything about it—not even Mrs. Grundy, because she has been wearing the shortest of short skirts herself to be in the mode. The war changed many things. It gave woman the vote and made breeches for women conventional. And the Banff girl wears 'em.

She is as much at home whipping the Spray Lakes or Lake Louise as a mile or more above Lake Louise and Banff because they are unexcelled in beauty and majesty. The Alpine Club of Canada has many women members, the most expert of whom do not hesitate to attempt the conquest of any peak men have ascended. In 1901 Mount Assiniboine was ascended for the first time by Sir James Garfield. Three years later Miss Gertrude Benham, an English girl, was the first of her sex to reach the summit of this great peak, the Matterhorn of the Canadian Rockies. Both were assisted by Swiss guides.

BOYS WILL BE BOYS

"Really, Mrs. James, I don't know how I would have gotten along without them. Tommy had been telling me that all the other little boys in school had been there and he wanted to go, too, but you know how youngsters are, and I kept putting it off. He doesn't make any effort to keep himself neat anyway, and you know what a task it is to keep boys well dressed. And besides that, pieces an dthen I decided to go to finally Tommy's suit began going to pieces an dthen I decided to go to Chyristie's. Well, I've never seen such real bargains on such lovely clothes. I got him a suit with two pairs of knee pants for only $20 and I got myself the dearest coat for $20.50 and a sweater for $2.95 and that isn't all—just a little down and a little each month pays for it. The store for women is at 515 13th street, the men's store 528 13th street. There's absolutely no sense saving up while you can wear new things, while paying for them, is there?" Advertisement.

Mellon Figures How to Collect European Debt

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Europe's $10,000,000,000 debt to the United States was at the top of the calendar today as one of the most urgent problems, pressing for adjustment, under the new administration. This vital question, together with others of great moment, today confronted the new secretary of the treasury, Andrew W. Mellon when he took over the affairs of office. Secretary Mellon's first day was devoted partly to a study of the debt matter.

Secretary Mellon, in a series of conferences with David F. Houston, the retiring secretary, and with other officials, was made conversant with the status of the foreign loans and went at some length into the various phases of negotiations previously begun by foreign governments relative to the funding of the outstanding obligations.

President Harding's inaugural utterance, indicating that suggestions for cancellation of the debt will meet with rejection, apparently started the new secretary of the treasury upon a clearly defined policy.

Y.M.I. and Y.L.I. St Patrick's Dance on Saturday Night

The pavilion will be lavishly decorated in keeping with the date and everything will be done to insure success and a good time.

Berlin Will Defy Demands of Allies; Make Counter Offer

LONDON, March 5.—The German cabinet has unanimously opposed acceptance of the allied reparations terms, the German delegation here was informed today. The cabinet met in Berlin yesterday and the result of its deliberations was transmitted to the delegates here early today. The allied demands, agreed upon at Paris and communicated to the German delegation here this week, called for payment of $55,000,000,000. The Germans countered with a proposal for payment of only $7,200,000,000.

New Alien Act Will be Rushed, Washington Says

WASHINGTON, March 5.—The immigration restriction bill, which was "pocket" vetoed by President Wilson, will be one of the first measures, according to congressional leaders, to be introduced in the next session of the Sixty-seventh Congress. It is the plan to send it to President Harding with the least possible delay, as proponents regard its early enactment as necessary to keep out hordes of undesirable immigrants from southern Europe.

Some slight modifications in the bill may be made. Many Senators are known to desire to increase the 3 per cent limitation to 5 per cent.

FOREIGN PRESS ON HARDING SPEECH

LONDON, March 5.—President Harding and his inaugural address are the subject of congratulations and good will in the English press this morning.

The Daily Mail says President Harding is a man who may be trusted to make good use of his great power. The Morning Post expresses the belief that with the inauguration of Harding the outlook for the present and future relations between the United States and Great Britain were never more pleasant or more hopeful.

The address of Harding is regarded by the Post as virtually pronouncing the doom of the League of Nations. It declares there can be no effective league without the United States as a member.

The Daily News declares it is able to say nothing but "amen" to President Harding's refusal to enter alliances and his aspirations for peace and disarmament. It regrets, however, that he leaves his attitude toward the League of Nations indeterminate.

PARIS, March 5.—Underlying editorial comment upon the inauguration of a new President of the United States in this morning's newspapers there was a certain amount of uneasiness as to the effect of Harding's policy on the European situation.

The Journal declared it had "confidence in the uprightness and broad political sense of Mr. Harding to repair, as far as possible, the consequences of Mr. Wilson's mistakes."

"Sure of American friendship," said the Echo de Paris, "we can only rejoice to see at last the great trans-Atlantic republic assume its place at the international council board."

The operation took place a couple of days ago in a San Jose hospital when a vein in the young man's arm was attached to a vein in the arm of the patient. Since the operation the father has been gaining strength rapidly.

John H. Nicholl, well known landowner in Richmond, who has been recuperating in the southern part of the state has returned to San Francisco.

Georgette Cohan and Future Husband While They Were Fooling Palm Beach

Miss Georgette Cohan and J. William Souther had their little joke on the society colony at Palm Beach, Fla. This photograph was taken at the time that her mother, Miss Ethel Levey, now Mrs. Claude Graham Livermore (see left).

White, was expected to announce their engagement. Instead they stole away in an automobile and were married by a nearby justice of the peace. The honeymoon couple are seen here with Mrs. Jesse R. Livermore (see left).

Mrs. Harding Makes a Wish

Mrs. Warren G. Harding, at right, tells Beatrice Cline and Gertrude Nathan how much she regrets that there were no girl scouts when she was a child.

FIRST Lady of the Land, Mrs. Warren G. Harding, has assured a delegation of Girl Scouts that she wished herself fourteen years old and a member of their organization!

It was during Mrs. Harding's shopping visit to New York preceding the inauguration that she was notified by a delegation of two Girl Scouts that she had been chosen Honorary President of the organization. Although every minute of Mrs. Harding's time was crowded, she received the committee consisting of Beatrice Cline, fourteen years old, and Gertrude Nathan, fifteen, at the Ritz-Carlton, made them comfortable while they delivered the notification, posed with them for photographs and made them sit with her while they chatted pleasantly. The President's wife thrilled the girls with an invitation to the White House.

"I would be perfectly delighted if the Girl Scouts would come down to Washington during my sojourn at the White House," she said, accepting a bouquet, tendered on behalf of 45,312 Girl Scouts. Gertrude delivered the greetings of Mrs. Jane Deeter Rippin, National Director of the organization.

"I am sincerely and genuinely interested in the Girl Scout movement," said Mrs. Harding. "I think you all have a wonderful future in store. What I wish is: that I were your age and could start life over again as a Girl Scout."

Two very proud and happy girls took home this message of the new President's wish for the Girl Scouts of America.

The Wide World Is Her Office

Even the Problem of Finding a Girl of Fifteen Lost Between Prague, Czechoslovakia and Bayonne, N. J., Was None Too Difficult for Her.

LOST—a girl of fifteen between Prague, Czechoslovakia and Bayonne, New Jersey—and half the world in between! In Bayonne, a Czech laborer who had sent passage money, waited in vain for his little sister. In Prague, a mother frantic at the cable that disclosed no trace of her. What was to be done? The New York Police Administration that fails to catch bandits within eye shot, might well say "hands up" at the problem of finding a slip of a girl whose trail led half around the world.

Not so the international worker of the Young Women's Christian Association at Ellis Island. A certain slim young woman, looking hardly out of her teens, was put on the case. A quick look at the map. Rosina lived near Prague. In all likelihood she journeyed to such and such a port to embark for America. A cable there brought no trace of her. Tireless investigation disclosed she had gone there only to be told that her steamer was delayed six weeks in sailing. Friends, with no money other than ticket, the child had become stranded in her attempt to reach another port. She was still sleeping on the railway station benches, picking up what food she could, when found by the Y. W. C. A. and brought safely to her distraught brother.

Duplicate Rosina's case by the thousands and you have an idea of the immigration problem as it is affecting women and girls enroute to America. Obligated to await their chance to get on crowded trains and forced to sleep in the open, these helpless Rosinas and her sisters by the thousands, for weeks are subjected to discomfort and danger. Governments, their hands full of post war problems, have not set up machinery for these transients. The World's Y. W. C. A., realizing the physical as well as moral safeguards necessary, asked for a World's Immigration Secretary from America to handle the situation.

MISS MARY E. HURLBUTT

up machinery to cope with it, Miss Hurlbutt is to seek the co-operation of Governments. Already she has an "engagement" to appear before the Ministry of Social Welfare at Prague, Czechoslovakia, for whom, at the request of Dr. Alice Masaryk, daughter of the President of Czechoslovakia, Miss Hurlbutt and Miss Ruth Crawford three years ago, were loaned by the War Work Council of the Y. W. C. A. to set up a survey of all existing social agencies and help to coordinate their activities for the new nation, according to American standards.

Miss Hurlbutt was graduated from Vassar in 1912, Columbia and School of Philanthropy. Her home town is Stamford, Conn.

U. C. Claims to be Biggest University in the World

The University of California, which surpassed all American universities and colleges in size in 1919, now lays claim to being the largest institution of learning in the world.

Enrollment statistics just compiled by Recorder James Sutton show a total registration of full-time students of 12,316, an increase of at least 5 per cent over the final total of students under university instruction during the previous year.

In his statistics of registration of the thirty foremost American universities for 1920 Raymond Walters, secretary of the American Association of Collegiate Registrars, gives the State University first place with an enrollment of full-time students of 11,071, a grand total of 16,379 resident students and a final sum total of 36,904 instructed persons.

Figures in Walters' report are based on enrollment date to November 1, 1920, which does not include the increase during the current semester.

Another significant fact disclosed in the national comparison is that California leads by a large margin in the number of women students, while Harvard and Michigan surpass the State institution in attendance of men undergraduates.

In the enrollment of liberal art colleges California leads with 5,677 students. It holds fourth place in attendance of law students and second place in both the attendance of nonprofessional graduate students and summer school registration.

Newspaperman is President of U. S. for First Time

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Whatever else he may be, Warren G. Harding always classifies himself as an editor, publisher and printer, proud of his professional accomplishments and training. His luck charm and most sacred possession is a printer's rule, "carried in his pocket wherever he goes; and his close friends say he would rather set a stick of type any day than grant an audience to an ambassador.

For more than thirty years Harding's bread and butter has been earned by the Marion Star, whose responsibilities he assumed under heavy mortgage and whose early years he nourished at the expense of going hungry more than once himself. Since his nomination for the Presidency he has faced only one public ordeal that aroused emotions he could not master. That was the temporary severance of the ties that held him to the Star.

Although it was a pioneer newspaper, Harding's mind ran to progressive notions even in the day when the Star was still a liability. He broke with his first partner over the question of installing a telephone in the newspaper office, a proposal which the partner held to be impractical, extravagant and revolutionary. Although he retains a controlling financial interest in the Star, now a successful paper, Harding will occupy but a titular relationship to it during his Presidency.

Nevada Senator Shot in Capitol by Former Client

WASHINGTON, March 5.—Senator Charles B. Henderson of Nevada was shot and slightly wounded in his office in the Capitol today by a man who gave his name as Charles August Brock, 65, formerly of Reno, and now living in Washington. The shot took effect in the senator's wrist and is not considered serious.

Brock, when arrested by the Capitol police, said Henderson had been his attorney for 25 years and he had "swindled" him out of $2000.

The shooting created a furore of excitement in the Senate office building.

Boy Bank Clerk, Who Stole $771,500 and Captor Who Got $26,000 Reward

William Dalton, the 17 year old junior clerk in the Northwestern Trust Company, of Chicago, who stole $771,500 in Liberty Bonds, is shown here (at right) with Paul Draper, who captured him within two days at Heyworth, Ill. Draper received a reward of $26,000 for the return of the bonds and the arrest of Dalton. Draper, son of the constable at Heyworth, recognized the boy in a billiard room. Young Draper, an ex-service man, called his father who placed Dalton under arrest. Dalton had cashed only one of the $500 bonds, with the proceeds he bought an automobile and left Chicago.

State Asked to Help Stop This Waste

TO young America, the school boys and girls of the United States, Federal and State Government officials and business men everywhere have turned in the hope that the country's enormous losses by fires, amounting in the past five years to $1,416,000,000, may be greatly reduced if not almost entirely eliminated.

Following the example of New Jersey, where a law has just gone into effect prescribing instruction in the causes of fires and their prevention, as a part of public school work, the legislature of this State and those of most of the other States of the Union are expected to pass this year a bill providing for such instruction in the schools.

Under the leadership of the National Association of Credit Men and its affiliated State organizations, the Federal Government, through the United States Bureau of Education and the United States Forest Service is cooperating with the National Fire Protection Association, the Fire Marshals' Association, the North American, the National Board of Fire Underwriters and other organizations in a movement for the adoption of State laws, like that in New Jersey requiring public school instruction for at least an hour a month, in fire causes and prevention.

"The proposed law is so simple and attacks the problem before us so directly," says J. H. Treggs, secretary of the Credit Men's Association, "that the measure should meet no opposition in any State."

It is hoped that as the result of this instruction the next generation will hate fire waste and the carelessness that causes it. In teaching fire prevention in the schools it is planned to strike at the root of the national evil by beginning with instruction of the children.

"If each of the school children in the United States would learn how to prevent fire and would form habits of carelessness and consideration, it would go far in saving lives and property," says Dr. P. P. Claxton, United States Commissioner of Education of this and the other States urging them to cooperate in having the fire prevention education bills enacted at the present session.

Railroad Pays Fees for Jury in Damage Suit

The county treasurer's office yesterday received a check for $189 from the San Francisco Terminal railways as a payment for jury fees in the civil action of Mrs. Isora Mason against the company some time ago.

Mrs. Mason filed suit against the company recently for damages for injuries alleged to have been received when she fell from a street car. The plaintiff could not pay the court costs and a jury returned a verdict giving Mrs. Mason a judgment for $7,000. A motion for new trial was filed and the court cut the damages to $5,000. An appeal was taken and according to the communication from the railroad yesterday, the case has been settled.

With the notice of the settlement of the case, the railroad sent the money to pay for the jury fees, which the court would otherwise have been responsible for. C. S. Hannum of Richmond was attorney for Mrs. Mason.
